General Information

This is a short, practical guide to the training process, main steps and typical deadlines. Detailed rules and current fees are set out in the “Terms and Conditions and Student Guide”.

1. E-learning course:

The course becomes available once you complete your registration and start the learning material in the e-Titán system.

You must start the course within 90 calendar days of the e-Titán registration email being sent. Otherwise, registration expires and you may have to purchase a new course.

The 180-day access period begins when you actually start the learning material. The course is available on any internet-connected device.

You have 75 hours in total for the learning material. The timer runs while you use the material and stops when you exit; the time used is deducted from the 75 hours.

Completing the course usually takes around 30–35 hours.

1.1. Course content:

- Category B learning material
- Category B exam preparation material
- Optional first-aid e-learning (Hungarian only)
- Trailer-towing learning material

The first module is compulsory. It has 5 chapters, each divided into smaller units.

Each unit ends with a 10-question test. Each chapter ends with a 50-question test, which you must pass with at least 85% to continue.

The course ends with a practice exam. You need at least 65 out of 75 points to receive the e-learning completion certificate.

First-aid e-learning is available only in Hungarian. For first-aid training or an examination in English, contact the Hungarian Red Cross. You may take the first-aid exam after passing the practical driving exam, but you must pass it or show a statutory exemption before your first driving licence is issued. E-learning access time does not determine the Red Cross exam deadline.

2. Booking the KRESZ theory exam:

Apply for the KRESZ theory exam by email at likedrive@likedrive.hu.

Attach the following documents to your email:

- your e-learning completion certificate,
- your medical fitness certificate, photographed or scanned.

The usual waiting time for a KRESZ theory exam is 2–3 weeks. We will send you a list of available dates to choose from.

3. Medical fitness examination:

If you already have a valid medical certificate accepted for the KRESZ exam, you do not need a new examination just because you enrolled.

You can arrange the medical examination with your own GP. On request, we can provide the contact details of a doctor who works with our driving school, so you can book directly.
